BXO INTERNATIONAL TRADING LLC is a UAE-based international trading company specializing in aircraft spare parts, aviation components, maintenance supplies, consumables, and protective packaging solutions.
We provide direct trading, global sourcing, procurement, and distribution of aviation products, including aircraft components, chemicals, lubricants, tools, ground support equipment, and export packaging materials.
Through our international supplier network, we are committed to delivering reliable, quality products and professional supply solutions to support the global aviation industry.

OUR BUSINESS APPROACH

Comprehensive Aviation Trading & Procurement

Contact Us

Direct Trading & Distribution

Supplying aviation products and aircraft-related materials directly to customers, including aviation operators, maintenance organizations, distributors, and industrial partners.

We operate through two complementary business channels:

Global Sourcing & Procurement

Identifying and sourcing specialized aviation products through international suppliers and manufacturers to meet specific customer requirements, including hard-to-find components and specialized maintenance materials.

Our approach allows us to address both routine supply requirements and specialized procurement requests across international markets.
